Kremlin Puts Brain Control to Big Test

Leaders Trying To Convince Public They Were 'Victims' Too

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The Kremlin evidently has decided to put its Communist "thought control" system to a historic test.

Russians are being asked to believe that Josef Stalin, elevated to Red sainthood on his 70th birthday in 1949, actually was a general no-good.

That ought not to be difficult. It certainly was no secret even from the people themselves.

They knew all about the secret police. They knew about the slave labor camps in which millions of people were worked and starved to death. They knew about the police spies in their own social circles, even in their own families.

The real test which the handful of Russia's leaders have decided to risk is their attempt to put over the idea that they, like the people, were victims of Stalin's lunatic dictatorship.

It is impossible not to believe that people will ask about Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin, Communist party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and the rest: And where were you all the time?

All the men in the presidium of the Central Committee of the Communist party, the rulers of Russia, were close collaborators of Stalin.

It was they who elevated him to sainthood, they who helped to send Communists and non-Communists alike to the slave labor camps, they who made Russia itself a gigantic slave camp.

It is not going to be so easy for these men to convince Russia's 200 million people or even its 7 million members of the Communist party, to swallow the idea that they were guiltless.

Nevertheless, it is quite plain that the men in the Kremlin are convinced that they can get away with.

So as of today, it appears the Soviet Union's peaceful but powerful fourth revolution is subsiding into a dogged campaign to erase Stalinism even if it takes 10 years. And it may.

Floodgates of discussion and criticism have been opened as never before so that every Soviet citizen is beginning to enjoy a feeling of freedom from fear.

Sons Named Stalin

Embarrass Parents

MILAN, Italy (AP) — The parents of at least 187 Italian children were finding their sons' names embarrassing today.

The parents are Communists and had christened their children "Stalin."

SMART THOSE BURROS

The Desert Rats in this desert are up in arms about the newspapers' rating of animal intelligence. Old timers, to the man, claiming that those professor fellows just don't know the desert burros. Gathered around the fireplace at Old Fort Oliver your Editor counted (while attempting to remember them) some 50 or 60 tales in which burros were proven smarter than their human partners.

Liminat' Lem says, as how he thinks Truman is to blame for the low rating of the Jackass—with the Elephant in 3rd place—yet.

The rating of animal intelligence is as follows: 1. Chimpanzee; 2. Orangutan; 3. Elephant; 4. Gorilla; 5. Dog; 6. Beaver; 7. Horse; 8. Sea Lion; 9. Bear; 10. Cat; 11. Burro.

Whiskers says, the Burro should come in tenth—ahead of the damn cat.

Late Returns Give Kefauver Six Out of Nine

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver jubilantly claimed today the Democratic tide had turned in his favor on the strength of a stunning upset victory over Adlai E. Stevenson in Minnesota's presidential primary.

He won decisively in six of the state's nine congressional districts and held a narrow lead in a seventh where only two late precincts remained to be reported. Stevenson won one district and held an indecisive lead in another.

In the Third District, Kefauver moved into a 33,890 to 33,603 lead with only two Washington County precincts unreported. It appeared possible the outcome in that district might have to await the report of the canvassing board.

Snowbound roads delayed the count in some Northwestern Minnesota counties and returns traditionally come in by canoe from some precincts in the roadless wilderness area of the Northeast.

A flood of votes upset Stevenson in a state where analysts said he had to score a decisive victory to remain the front-runner for the Democratic presidential nomination.

With 3164 of 3806 precincts reporting, Kefauver had 291,818 votes to 170,002 for Stevenson.

With 3111 precincts reporting in the Republican primary, President Eisenhower was leading Sen. William F. Knowland, 182,086 to 130,6.

GOP Dinner Set Tonight

A near-capacity crowd is expected tonight for the 350-plate Republican Fund Raising dinner at El Mirador Hotel tonight, according to Mrs. Frank Bennett, general chairman.

The dinner is scheduled to start at 7 p.m.

Dan Thornton, former governor of Colorado and now consultant to President Eisenhower, will head an impressive list of speakers.

George Murphy will be master of ceremonies, and others scheduled to give short addresses are A. Ronald Burton, Republican national committeeman; Reed Benson, members of the Congressional campaign committee, and son of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson, and George E. Stanley, chairman of the Riverside County Central Committee.

1482 Japanese Homes Burned

TOKYO (AP)—A raging fire destroyed 1482 homes in the Japanese sea coast town of Noshiro today, leaving an estimated 8000 persons homeless.

The flames, fanned by brisk winds, spread rapidly and razed the city's business section. There were no reports of deaths, but 12 were injured. Noshiro is a city of 50,000 population in northern Akita Prefecture.

Chessman Wins Pauper Plea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Convict-author Caryl Chessman's plea to be declared a pauper in his forthcoming plea for a writ of habeas corpus has been granted by the U.S. Court of Appeals.

Chessman's attorney, George P. Davis, told a court earlier this week that the author of best-seller "Cell 2455 Death Row" was without funds to finance his latest appeal from a death sentence for kidnapping and robbery.

Chessman is appealing a denial of a writ of habeas corpus made by Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman in January.

Education Board Meets Tomorrow

Board of education, Palm Springs Unified School District, will hold its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, in the board room at Frances Stevens School.

Kefauver's Victory Poses Threat of Democrat Split

WASHINGTON (AP)—Minnesota presidential primary returns confronted the Democratic party today with the stark possibility of a conservative bolt from this year's national convention or from the party ticket.

In Minnesota Sen. Estes Kefauver knocked Adlai E. Stevenson down and probably out. Kefauver and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York look like the front runners today and the South does not want either of them.

The search may be on by sundown for compromise candidates who could be nominated without deadly convention strife and men acceptable to Southern conservatives as well as to Northern New and Fair Dealers.

The Tennessee senator picked up eight delegates last week in a clean New Hampshire sweep. They meet again in Florida's May 29 preferential primary and on June 5 in California where the choice is for delegates only without opportunity to express a preference between individual presidential candidates.

To New Hampshire's eight, Kefauver now adds at least 21 of Minnesota's 30 delegate votes in next August's Democratic National Convention. The senator is repeating his primary triumphs of 1952 when he bowed over most opposition and came to the party convention with a commanding lead.

Kefauver led on the first two ballots in 1952. His try was scuttled on the third ballot largely by the combined efforts of former President Truman and the big city organizations who put Stevenson over.

"Nobody wanted him except the people," Kefauver managers complained after the convention returns were in. But the South did not want Kefauver then nor now, although he is from a Southern state. The South likes Kefauver less now than it did four years ago.

Kefauver did not sign the declaration protesting against integration in the public schools which was solemnly read this month in Congress over the signatures of almost all of his Southern colleagues.

Stevenson had denounced the declaration. But the feeling among some Southern political leaders was that Stevenson's so-called gradualism in attempting Southern school integration would make him acceptable in that area as a presidential nominee.

Stevenson heard the returns today and said he would remain in the race. But Stevenson's dead political unless he has the blood of a champion and can get up slugging from the floor.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Samuel Gately admitted, during investigation of the other theft, that he had burglarized the poorbox. Metzger was released after his father paid the $50 fine, one other boy was 17-years-old and released for juvenile hall processing, and the fourth, a 19-year-old youth, escaped during the shakedown and was presumed to have gone to his San Bernardino home. Palm Springs officers are scheduled to pick him up today.

House Speeds $29,262,000 for Space Satellites

By UNITED PRESS
An extra appropriation of $798,768,823 breezed through the House today without a record vote.

It included $29,262,000 for work on a dozen Earth satellites and funds to carry other government functions through the present fiscal year to June 30.

A demand for a roll call delayed its passage yesterday. When it was called up today the measure was not repeated and the measure was passed by voice vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

2 Car Looters are Fined $50

Robert Farr, 27, and Richard Darmiento, 22, both from the Los Angeles area, yesterday admitted they stole a camera and an electric razor from a car Saturday night. They were fined $50, and a 30-day county jail sentence was suspended.

The pair were arrested at the north end of the Village Sunday.

Yorty, who seeks the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate, said today Sen. Estes Kefauver's victory in Minnesota was "another setback for the type of bossism which certain Democratic officials are attempting to establish in California."

Yorty is involved in a vigorous campaign with state Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles) for the Democratic nomination to oppose incumbent Thomas Kuchel. Richards has been endorsed by the California Democratic Council and many state party leaders.

$7,500,000 Blast Rocks G-E Plant

I Dead, I Missing After Explosion In Schenectady

SCHENECTADY, N. Y. (AP)—A terrific explosion rocked a four-story chemical building at the General Electric Company plant here today. One man was killed and another was still missing 12 hours later.

Thirteen persons were injured. Fire followed the explosion and wrecked the interior of the structure. Damage was estimated at $7,500,000.

Youth Admitting Poorbox Theft is Bound Over

Robert E. Gately, an 18-year-old Riverside student who admitted he burglarized the poorbox of the Foursquare Church on Vella Road Sunday, was bound over to Juvenile Hall in Riverside yesterday after Judge Eugene Theriault took his age into consideration.

Gately and three others were arrested Sunday on a routine check-up, and were found to have four hubcaps in their car. Gately and William Metzger, also 18, admitted they stole discs, and were sentenced for petty theft.

Gately admitted, during investigation of the other theft, that he had burglarized the poorbox. Metzger was released after his father paid the $50 fine, one other boy was 17-years-old and released for juvenile hall processing, and the fourth, a 19-year-old youth, escaped during the shakedown and was presumed to have gone to his San Bernardino home. Palm Springs officers are scheduled to pick him up today.

El Centro Dog Found Wired to Fence by Tongue

EL CENTRO (AP)—Authorities today sought a person responsible for wiring a German police dog to a dog pound fence by his tongue.

Officers said the dog was freed Tuesday after a wire had been jabbed through its tongue and looped around the fence. The official in charge of the pound was at home sick when the animal was mistreated.

All the Comforts of Home Banditry

MIAMI (AP)—Druggist R. W. James reported that two hooded bandits held him captive and watched television until his wife came home with his store's receipts.

Then the gunmen tied up the couple and left with the money.

PHIL HARRIS, who will emcee the 7th Annual Police Show Saturday night at the high school, took a look at Bob Hope's picture in The Desert Sun and asked, "He's going to be on the show too?" And so are Frank Sinatra, Eddie Cantor, Ginny Simms, Gary Crosby, Dick Contino, Roberta Linn, Desi Arnaz, Jimmy Van Heusen and Les Brown and his "Band of Renown." Phil's parting remark was, "Man with a show like that the folks better get their tickets right away."

Standing Room at Police Show Allotted for 750

There will be about 750 standing room spaces for persons wishing to see the police show Saturday night at the High school quadrangle, Sgt. Dale Thompson said today.

Tickets for the spectacular will be on sale at the boxoffice before show time at the school. Advance sales have exceeded that of previous years.

Phil Harris will emcee the show, which will include performances by Joan Davis, Roberta Linn, Gary Crosby, Dick Contino, Bob Hope, Frank Sinatra, Ginny Simms, Eddie Cantor, Desi Arnaz and Charlie Farrell.

Appearances will be made by many other stars. The show is scheduled to start at 8 p.m., and Les Brown's band, which will provide the musical background for the performances, will play for dancing after 10 p.m.

The funds derived from the show will be put into the Police Association fund. Besides paying for policemen's insurance premiums, allotments will be made for combating juvenile delinquency, increasing the quality of the department through training and schooling facilities and donations to various youth groups, including Twin Pines Boys' Ranch.

Cyprus Agitators Attack British

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—Cypriot extremists attacked a British patrol with bombs and gunfire today at the eastern end of the island near Famagusta.

Unofficial reports said one British soldier was killed and two others injured.

The new anti-British violence by union-with-Greece agitators came with the announcement in Athens of the death of Greek Orthodox Archbishop Spyridon, leader of the Committee for the Liberation of Cyprus.

It followed a day of anti-Greek demonstrations by Turkish residents of the island and an announcement by a Turkish Cypriot leader that a protest would be lodged with the United Nations.

Dr. Fazil Kuchuk urged his fellow Turks to keep the peace and not resort to violent retaliation for a battle between Greek and Turkish villagers in Vassilia Monday.

Storm and Tree Throw Curve to Cameron Center

The March 6 sandstorm, though long since abated, threw a curve to Cameron Center yesterday. For half a day workmen scratched heads over a mystery that theoretically couldn't exist.

It began when they discovered the huge laminated beams roofing the $350,000 modernistic restaurant unit of the shopping center wouldn't fit precisely into place. Some were as much as eight inches out of line.

In conventional construction work, minor mistakes or variations can be covered up. But, as Architect William Cody put it, "When all the joints are on the outside and form an essential part of the over-all appearance, you can't." He said the beams, formed to specification under a once-secret German gluing process, alone will cost $18,000 installed.

Painstaking search at last disclosed that a single small nail, which had been driven into a tree at the intersection of South Palm Canyon Drive and Mesquits Avenue as the surveyors' key sighting point for all building lines, had moved five-eighths of an inch when the March 6 storm shifted the tree a trifle.

Projected to the far ends of the building lines, that fraction multiplied to many inches—more than enough to throw any conscientious builder into a whoa. Meanwhile a bulldozer grading the site had accidentally obliterated the usually-available benchmark reference point.

The subversive nail was returned to proper position, and the beam installation was resumed.

2 Village Officials to Fight Cabazon Move Tomorrow

City Attorney Jerry Bunker and City Manager R. W. Peterson will express the city council's "no" tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Cabazon at a hearing on proposal by Cabazon to annex land within about a mile of the Palm Springs city limits.

City council has unanimously agreed to protest the annexation by Cabazon of part of Highways 111 and 99, including the weighing scales at the junction of the two highways, on grounds that their proposal comes too close to present boundaries of the Village.

The meeting will be held at the Cabazon elementary school.

Italy Will Stop Teaching Latin in Junior Highs

ROME (AP)—Latin suffered a mighty blow here today in the country where the language was born.

The Italian government decided to stop teaching the dead language to junior high school students and confine it only to classical students in senior high schools.

A CMA committee headed by Dr. Francis J. Cox, San Francisco, spent 3½ years developing this new approach to fee-setting.

PRESS STOPPERS

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The county Grand Jury today said it had made three recommendations as a result of its investigation into a Santa Fe train wreck which claimed 30 lives Jan. 22. That frequent physical examinations of all railroad operating personnel be made compulsory; that firemen should be given status and training as assistants engineers; that an effective in-service safety program should be augmented at all times.

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bill to increase highway user taxes by $38 million was dropped today. Sen. Randolph Collier R-Yreka said after a conference with director of Finance John M. Peirce that he is abandoning his bill.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A bag containing $32,000 in cash and checks was snatched from a woman today as she walked into a Security-First National Bank branch here.

HENDERSON, Nev. (AP)—The spread of gambling in the city of Henderson took a big stride forward today as the City Council voted to approve an ordinance permitting slot machine operation in all sections of the city.

Urges Action on Order of High Court

Advocates Progress On Desegregation, With Moderation

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today he thinks it is incumbent on the Southern states to make some progress toward racial integration in schools as decreed by the Supreme Court.

Under news conference questioning, Mr. Eisenhower said that he is well aware of the deep emotions involved in the South, and that he advocates a pattern of moderation and progress.

The chief executive said he does not believe in stagnation on the racial issue in the South. But he added that he wanted to take the occasion of his meeting with reporters to plead again for understanding and patience.

MR. EISENHOWER avoided direct comment on Sen. Estes Kefauver's victory over Adlai E. Stevenson in the Minnesota Democratic primary. He said, however, that Minnesota is an important state and the vote is something to be studied.

Other news conference highlights:

The President said the farm bill passed by the Senate would be unworkable and not a good piece of legislation. He hoped that Senate-House conferees would produce a better measure from the administration viewpoint.

HE DOES NOT believe that basic Communist objectives have been changed by recent Soviet criticism of Stalin. The President said that he thought the current Russian leadership had embarked on other methods and consequently had to repudiate something.

He would very much like to visit India, but such a trip would be difficult because if he went to the Far East he would have to visit a number of other areas. Mr. Eisenhower will play host to Indian Prime Minister Nehru here in July.

He called a meeting of Republican and Democratic congressional leaders for 8:30 a.m. tomorrow to hear a report from Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on his recent trip to the Far East. He praised the Defense Department for putting into effect 325 recommendations of the Hoover Commission on Government Efficiency.

HE APPEALED for mediation of the Middle East crisis to avoid the world tragedy of a war in that tense area. He added that the major U. S. effort at the moment is to find some way to help Middle Eastern countries see that their best interests lie in mediation.

The President's discussion of the segregation issue was produced by a series of news conference questions. He was asked first how he felt about Negroes being brought to trial in Montgomery, Ala., for "refusal to ride the buses."

THE PRESIDENT said first that he understood there was an Alabama state law against boycotts, but as for the over-all problem of segregation he said he wanted to refer back to his news conference statement of last week when he asked for patience and understanding.

The President paused for a moment and then said he had an added idea—he believes it is incumbent on the South to show some progress toward school integration in conformance with the opinion of the Supreme Court.

City Sales Tax Receipts Show Large Increase

Sales tax receipts of the City of Palm Springs showed a substantial increase during February, by comparison with the same period last year, $37,048 to $26,992, Shelby V. Langford, director of finance, reported.

The total for the fiscal year of 1955-56 also is way ahead of last year, $142,291 to $103,913.

Receipts reported are on a cash basis and reflect taxable sales which occurred in previous months and quarters, according to Langford.

Income received by the city since the sales tax was placed in effect in May of 1947 is $1,290,867.

Planning Group to Meet Monday

Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee will discuss the proposed county sales tax at its regular monthly meeting Monday evening in the library of Jefferson School in Indio, located at the corner of Highway 111 and Jackson.

George Berkey, new fourth district supervisor, will be present. Ted Smith, president, will preside at the session. All organizations are invited to send representatives.

Tryouts for Scholarship Set

Tryouts for scholarships to the Idyllwild School of Music will be held at 4 p.m. April 30, in the high school music room, under the direction of Gustav Patzner.

The scholarships are being sponsored by four local organizations, the Lions Club and the American Association of University Women, both of whom sponsored these scholarships last year, the Kiwanis Club and Palm Springs Women's Club. All four organizations are contributing $100 in order that many students will be able to attend.

The scholarships entitle the students, which are limited to the Freshmen through Junior classes, to attend the school for one or two weeks in the Summer, and be instructed by top music instructors as well as have fun. Students who have attended before include Ricki Metz, Rob Faulkner, Frank Brown, Sandra Hill, Carolyn Knupp and Jimmy Harris.

GARY MORTON, comedy star of stage and television, will be one of the stars of the new show in the Starlite Room of Irwin Schuman's Chi Chi, starting tonight. Headlining the show is Dick Contino, "Mr. Accordion," and completing the all-star bill is Muriel King, musical comedy singing star of "Girl Crazy" and "Make Mine Manhattan."

New Dick Contino to be Unveiled in Chi Chi Starlite Room Tonight

A new Dick Contino will be unveiled to patrons of the Chi Chi tonight.

Contino starts a one week engagement as a real triple threat man.

The same showmanship which has enabled Contino to captivate audiences and cause them to applaud his jet-propelled keyboard rides almost as they would acrobatic stunts, is winning him new acclaim as a crooner and pianist.

CONTINO'S BARITONE vocalizing, which developed into big league proportions on his NBC television show, is expected to move into high gear when his latest Mercury recording, "Whenever I'm With You," is released. Dick wrote the tune himself when he was in the Army entertaining GIs up and down the 135-mile Korean battlefield.

It was during this period that Mr. Accordion, as he is widely known, took the wraps off his latent singing ability.

WHILE ENTERTAINING GIs during one particularly hot and humid Korean summer, the moist air would cause his accordion keys to stick. Thus forced to do without his deft instrumentalizing and not wishing to disappoint the entertainment-hungry GIs, he switched to singing. To his surprise, he

Desert Museum to Hold Annual Meet Thursday

Palm Springs Desert Museum will hold its annual meeting for the members at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Museum auditorium.

The business meeting will include reports from August G. Kettmann, president, from various of the committee chairmen and from the director.

A slate of trustees and officers of the organization will be presented for voting upon by the members. Any members may bring up for discussion matters pertaining to Museum policy or activities at this time.

Following the business meeting, Dr. W. Scott Lewis will offer an illustrated talk.

All Museum members are urged to attend this important once-a-year meeting.

Residents Asked to Number Mail Boxes at Homes

An appeal to residents to number their homes and place the number on their mail boxes was issued today by Postmaster Merritt Williams.

The postmaster made the plea as part of an information campaign to enlist the cooperation of the public in helping the Palm Springs Post Office give them better service.

"Letter carriers who have been serving neighborhoods for a long time may not have difficulty in delivering mail, even where numbers are missing from houses and letter boxes," the postmaster said, "but their substitutes would have trouble, and numbers are extremely important in new residential developments."

Williams also emphasized that names are also important on boxes in multiple-family dwelling units.

He said that lack of identification on mail boxes may delay or even prevent delivery in some cases.

"You don't want this to happen and neither does your post office," the postmaster stated. "How can it be avoided? All it requires is that nothing is left to chance—that you provide a clearly identified box for your mail."

Bond Sales Up Over Last Year

Riverside county residents invested nearly $800,000 in E and H Savings bonds during the first two months of this year, an increase of nine per cent over record-breaking sales during the same period in 1955, Thomas H. Holland, local chairman, reported today.

Sales in February of $334,378 brought the two-month total to $795,879, Holland said.

Slenderella Shop is Opened Here

With Earl Hough president of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce in attendance, Slenderella International officially opened its Palm Springs Salon in the Plaza this week.

The new salon is under the management of Helen Breeding, who expressed delight with the immediate acceptance here of this famous reducing system.

Former patrons from all over the United States called in person and by phone to make appointments, and to learn that they can continue courses here started at home or start courses here and continue them when they return to their native city.

The Palm Springs Salon is No. 117 in the chain, with 60 more scheduled to be opened by the first of the year.

OLD FRIENDS while both were in the wild animal business back in the twenties and thirties, Clyde Beatty and Dick Addison, police technician, renewed acquaintanceship when the former's circus was here Monday. Addison was formerly associated with the San Diego Zoo as curator of mammals, and as director of animals on William Randolph Hearst's Ranch. (Desert Sun photo)

Renewal of Friendship Here by Clyde Beatty, Dick Addison, PD Technician

Two friends held a reunion here Monday—in a circus tent. Both felt at home there, in the presence of wild animals and the atmosphere of danger.

One is still in the business, Clyde Beatty, while the other Dick Addison now faces animals of another nature, criminals and persons accused of crime, in his work as technician for the Palm Springs Police department.

Beatty was here with his world renowned circus, and a reunion was in order, as they have known each other since Addison served as curator of mammals for the San Diego Zoo from 1922 to '28.

DURING HIS six year tenure there he saw and assisted in the zoo becoming the fourth largest in the world.

In 1928 Addison was placed in charge of the animal collection on William Randolph Hearst's ranch. This was the largest private collection of wild animals in the world, and he directed the buying and selling of animals, besides the collection in general.

At this time he frequently bought animals from Beatty, or sold the surplus to him.

While working for Hearst, he started a feature series on animals for King Features Syndicate, called

Dog Gone

OGDEN, Utah.—Alvin Stauffer returned home to find an afternoon burglar had entered the house, taken four shirts, two pairs of pants, a suit, and had cracked open a piggy bank for a haul of $1.50. Stauffer, puzzled that the yegg met no opposition from the family dog, discovered the thief apparently had taken the dog too.

"Curious Creatures." This continued even after he left Hearst to enter business for himself—the buying and selling of animals—a business that was interrupted by the depression, for the market was no more.

ADDISON JOINED the Fort Lauderdale, Florida, police force, and eventually became chief. At this time their acquaintance was renewed as Beatty established winter quarters there, and operated a zoo.

Now there is a chance that they may continue their friendship on a close basis again, for Beatty is reportedly interested in establishing winter training headquarters in the Palm Springs area, and once again operating a zoo.

Reginald Long, 82 Dies at Home

Reginald Long, 82, of Vancouver, British Columbia, died suddenly Sunday at 10 a.m. at his residence at 343 North Palm Canyon Drive. A native of London, England, he had lived here four months. He is a retired special agent of the Aetna Insurance company.

He is survived by his wife, Dolores Long, and two sisters, Mrs. Campbell Andrews of Victoria, B. C. and Kathleen Everers, Sturbridge, England. Funeral services will be held from the Rev. James H. Blackstone, Jr., pastor of the Palm Springs Community Church officiating.

Lions Program to be Surprise

Bob Morris will be program chairman tomorrow for Palm Springs Lions Club, meeting in the Starlite Room of the Chi Chi at noon.

Nature of the program will be a surprise to the club members and guests.

Regular speaker, scheduled for tomorrow, was called to the east and Morris was assigned to provide the program.

Nehru to Visit Ike Next July

WASHINGTON.—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India today announced he will meet with President Eisenhower here next July.

The Prime Minister's announcement was released simultaneously by the White House here and in New Delhi.

President Eisenhower earlier this month invited Nehru to visit the United States in a move aimed at improving deteriorating U. S.-Indian relations.

The White House said Nehru plans to arrive in Washington July 6 or 7 and remain until July 10 or 11. He will come here immediately after the Commonwealth Nations Conference in London.

Meter Receipts Show Increase

Parking meter receipts in the City of Palm Springs showed only a slight increase in February of 1956 over February of last year, $3,139 to $3,117, Shelby V. Langford, director of finance, reported.

Total collected so far this fiscal year is $15,757, an increase of $696 over the first eight months of 1954-55.

There were 544 meters in operation on city streets during the month.

Total collected since the meters were installed in March of 1949 is $138,656.

Our Home-Made Brainwash

In recent weeks more than the usual number of officials who should be in position to know, have produced more than the usual number of contradictions as to how soon and how surely the world is going to pot in one last gigantic military holocaust. For instance:

Said Navy Secretary Thomas: "Today the Soviets have not the mere 57 submarines with which Hitler started World War II, but 400 submarines. And they are good."

Said Senator Symington: "The United States is far below Russia in practically all forms of air power."

Then said Congressman Curtis of Missouri: "When a Senator starts talking about the grave threat Russia is because they now have 300 submarines, you can put that down as a lot of hogwash devised to scare the American people to vote more military appropriations."

A month earlier Admiral Burke, chief of Naval Operations, had asserted: "It is obvious the USSR has one purpose in mind and that is to prevent U.S. shipping and naval forces from entering the waters surrounding Europe and Asia."

Thereafter Gen. Mathew B. Ridgeway protested that the civilian bosses of the Defense Department too often are swayed by "political expediency."

Finally last week came Air Secretary Quarles with at least one calming statement. He observed — concerning the debate over the quality and quantity of our long range air missiles — that too many people are blowing too many fuses over any single weapon. His suggestion was to do our best on an adequate arsenal overall, and worry less about the details of a suppositious conflict which already is so horrible that its terror alone may prevent it ever happening.

Meanwhile, who can forget the conflicting "authoritative" statements with which we have been deluged continuously the last 10 years? The surprise is, not that we still have peace, but that there are any sane, calm Americans who have survived their alternate injections of confidence and consternation. Perhaps some future flip historian will, in fact, dub this the age of confidenstermination.

To our notion, it is the age of the home made brain-wash, with free phobias fitted to everybody. Consider the background melody we've heard for years:

We are told we are in marvelous prosperity, but watch out for calamity. We are told we are in peace but the war peril is nevertheless deadly. We are told science's horizons are unlimited provided its atomic Frankenstein doesn't extinguish us.

We are told that when Russia talks bad, that's bad. When it talks good, that is probably bad too. We are told true peace is nearer but we can't stop taxing for war — and for the benefit of peoples who never heard of the war.

We are told our public welfare is never better, but we must pay more billions to a government to better it. We are told the economy is at a peak but we must still underwrite a support policy of "the survival of the sickest." We are told by federal deeds that the way to multiply wealth is to divide it.

We are told a nearby hydrogen bomb will kill us. Afar, the fall-out will kill us. We are told Russia has the planes to deliver them in droves. We are told it hasn't. It has. It hasn't.

Cancer will kill us. Smoking will kill us. Over-eating will kill us. So will under-eating. Over 50, we are told to watch our health meticulously. If we don't we will fall easy prey. If we do, we are hypochondriacs.

We are told tension will kill us if we don't relax. If we relax by motoring, accidents will kill us. Relax by quiet reading and it starts a family television row. Relax by daily tavern tour and alcoholism will put us away.

We are told if we plug on and ignore the strain, a crackup is just a matter of time. And the nearer the success goal, the closer the crackup. Especially if the pinnacle takes us into a new social stratum that insures we will constantly lack self-confidence.

If we survive all this, the horrors of unoccupied old age await us in retirement.

And to relieve the montony we are told that our children, despite our best care, are either potential killers, drug addicts, hoodlums, neglected psychopaths, irresponsible misfits, red-tainted reformers or poor spellers.

This is the mine-run sort of brainwash everyone gets. If you are in business, there is a special kind added.

The businessman is told by Washington to hold down prices, but not wages. He is told to work hard and make lots of jobs for everybody. If he does, a possible monopoly investigation awaits.

He is told to expand, for the abundant American life and prosperity. But on whose money? If he borrows, it puts a forecloseable lien on his plant — plus sharing of control with the lender.

If obtained on sale of common stock, earnings must be much higher to come out with the same after-tax net.

If obtained through merger, there's danger for sure of a frown from Washington. If the merger goes through, and is an important one, D.C.'s white fathers may disallow it as a monopoly combination. If it doesn't go through, the rumors of the firm's financial weakness will have done it no good.

So, if there is a trace of schizophrenia blanketing the American personality today, who can be surprised. — M.L.H.

Cameras in Court

(Times-Union, Albany, New York)

An important decision affecting the right of the public to be more fully informed of what goes on in its courts was announced Monday in Colorado. The Supreme Court of that state unanimously granted judges of subordinate courts the authority to determine whether news photographs or radio and TV broadcasts of proceedings should be permitted.

The importance of the decision lies in the fact that it cracks the rigid ban on cameras in courtrooms of the American Bar Association in its Canon 35.

Hoover Commission

(Perris, California, Progress)

If Congress would give more attention to the recommendations of that Hoover Commission for reducing waste which would lower the budget by billions an-

This canon, or decree, is almost 19 years old and was imposed to protect the "dignity and decorum" of the courtroom. It is now, we think, antiquated. Modern press cameras, using extremely fast film and equally fast lenses, can be operated as unobtrusively as a reporter's pencil.

We hope the Colorado decision persuades the ABA to review the merits of Canon 35, and we hope — and are sure it will — make its influence felt in other states, including this one. Time and progress have made it a calcified canon.

nually we could probably have substantial cuts in debt along with some easing of the tax burden.

Lion-Size Headache

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

Now, if Police Chief A. G. Kettmann, District Attorney, W. O. Mackey and Sheriff Joe Rice are not looking, I would like to make a suggestion which might prove of interest.

How about a pool on the day and the hour the mercury first climbs to three digits this year? The time of year is near when the cooler service men make hay.

OVERHEARING some of the old timers in the composing room the other day bragging about how long they had been remuneratively connected with the newspaper business brought up the thought — just how many years of experience go into the making of The Desert Sun each day? So spent five hours checking to provide material for about five inches of copy.

Questioned 10 men who form the heart of the composing room and the total was 265 years, average 26½ each. One had 50.

CHECKING OTHER departments, the newsroom with 121 messengers, averaged 15. Of course, I stuck my 53 years in with that and Mac Hutchens's 30.

Didn't know just where to classify Bill Rashall, he's all over the place, but stuck his 30 years with the display sales side to boost their total to 53 years.

The classified and auditing department added another 48 years, the circulation department 18 more.

And the top brass, Ward Risvold, publisher, 32 years, and Oliver B. Jaynes, editor, 37 years, 69 more.

That's a total of 574 years of experience by a crew of around 30 people. Quite a payroll because some who are not directly connected with the production of The Sun are not listed.

THE ABOVE REMINDS me of a story I heard about people long on the job.

A new man took charge of an industry and was questioning some of the personnel.

He asked one old-timer: "How long have you been with the firm?"

"Fifty years," was the prideful answer.

"You're in a rut. You're fired," was the answer.

THEY FROWN ON left turns, said a Villager to me yesterday. "But if you're going north on Indian Avenue, and are low on gas, what are you going to do? There isn't a service station on the east side of Indian Avenue after you leave Ramon Road."

Maybe most people are too clumsy but it's a rarity to see one slide over and climb out of the right side from under the wheel. And that's why there are many close calls daily in local traffic.

Exploding out of the left side without looking, drivers swing their wide doors almost half way across the adjoining lane, causing following motorists to swerve suddenly.

I saw one bicyclist almost get knocked for a loop yesterday and if the following autoist had not been alert, you would have heard the ambulance siren.

They should blow a whistle on that practice. There is a law against it.

And Franklin P. Adams said: "The important question is not what is the younger generation coming to, but when?"

Library Notes

Dear Handy:

There has been so much activity around the library lately: students coming in to hunt bibliographies for term papers; visitors asking how to obtain library privileges; Chamber of Commerce inquiries on the proper method of addressing foreign plenipotentiaries; and, more exciting than all the rest, the opening of the first Palm Springs Historical Society exhibition.

The Society is, you know, an auxiliary of the library and has its headquarters in the new branch on South Palm Canyon Drive. Many permanent exhibitions are now on display there and the Society's files contain a fine collection of early Palm Springs data and memorabilia of the life of the Village.

The subject of the first exhibition is Early Palm Springs Hotels and it is comprised of pictures, brochures, newspapers and magazine articles and letter-heads from the long ago El Mirador, Desert Inn, Murray's Palm Springs Hotel, Ingleside Inn, Deep Well Ranch, Las Solanitas, and La Palma.

Some very interesting gifts have been made to the Society. Mrs. Edona Carey donated the original steeple of Dr. Murray's hotel, which was situated on the property presently owned by Mr. Leibling at the corner of Indian Avenue and Tahquitz Drive. It was called the Palm Springs Hotel and Mrs. Carey also donated a tile from one of the bathrooms in this hostelry.

ANOTHER HOTEL, the La Palma, was owned by Polly and Adolph Adler. When the Society was formed last year, one of the first donations it received was the cornerstone from La Palma Hotel. This cornerstone was saved by Walter Pagan when the La Palma was torn down and he placed it on permanent exhibition with the Society.

One of the most fascinating exhibits is a stock certificate representing 10 shares of stock in the Palm Springs Land Company. This certificate was donated by Clay Miller who has had it for many years.

At the time of the great fire in San Francisco, the certificate was preserved because it was in a safe, and although the safe was buried under rubble for three weeks, it was eventually dug up and the contents preserved.

The Palm Springs Land Company was formed before the turn of the century with the idea of promoting this area as a resort, but the project was abandoned when the great drought at the end of the last century made it virtually impossible to get water. The present site of Smoke Tree Ranch was included in the holdings of this early group who envisioned an oasis in the desert and made one of the earliest attempts in this direction.

THE LARGE MAP of California and Nevada, the gift of Mrs. Bernard Ford, has proved interesting to visitors and Villagers alike. This map was issued in 1876 and at that time none of the towns in this area had their present names. Palm Springs shows simply as Agua Caliente and Banning and Beaumont as San Jacinto and San Geronimo. The beautiful framing of this old map was done by the Edward Canby Studios, who also framed the other memorabilia on display at Society headquarters.

So many kind and thoughtful gifts have been made to this young and earnest group, Handy, Mr. and Mrs. Pavy donated the matchstick curtain at the window. The Lions Club made the generous gift of a beautiful double-doored display case which houses many of the priceless (they are irreplaceable) pictures that belong to the Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Lykken (he was an early Village postmaster and for years had the general store) gave the first telephone ever used in Palm Springs—in all its nostalgic glory it hangs on the wall in the Branch. And Mr. and Mrs. Chester Moortens donated the first post office table in the Village.

I do wish you could come out here and visit the Palm Springs Historical Society and see this, its first exhibition.

Affectionately, BETTY.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Judy Drops to 111 Pounds

HOLLYWOOD — Judy Garland has starved herself down from 130 to 111 pounds and is rarin' to roll in RKO's remake of Katherine Hepburn's oldie, "Alice Adams" . . . It's in neither the book nor the movie but Lillian Roth's mother, Katie, as portrayed by Jo Van Fleet in "I'll Cry Tomorrow," died a Catholic. Lillian herself, who was brought up in the Jewish faith, baptized her mother on her deathbed. . . . For that fresh-young-thing look, Marilyn Monroe will wear almost no makeup in "Bus Stop".

Carol Channing has won a five-year contract at RKO because of her comedy kick-ups in support of Ginger Rogers in "The First Traveling Saleslady." She'll make one movie a year, for the first she'll get $30,000; for the last one she'll get $75,000. And to think I failed to spot her as a hot new star when I reviewed a small-budget revue called "Lend an Ear" in a side-street Hollywood Theatre a few years ago! . . . Miss Channing's first picture will probably be a musical version of Lynn Fontanne's old stage hit, "Dulcy." RKO is really going in for musical remakes this season . . . Hollywood producers are learning that it isn't the width of the screen that makes a movie a hit — It's the depth of the story.

TV TOPICS

Bob Hope tells me he wanted to film his last TV show from Germany in front of American troops, who are always a great audience. But his busy movie-making schedule in London wouldn't allow the time. Candid Robert admits he didn't much like his last London show. Too ordinary. The critics agreed . . . If their plans pan out, CBS-TV will sign Orson Welles to write, produce and direct an original spectacular this summer.

Frank Sinatra, who'll guest on Jimmy Durante's NBC-TV color show March 24, may also find time to play the title role in a movie to be called "The Jimmy Durante Story." Frankie boy would make this after he does Joe E. Lewis's life for Paramount . . . Italian glamor doll Sophia Loren will make her debut in American Television on NBC's "Home" show, although the exact date hasn't been set. . . . "Stage 7" tried to get Tab Hunter to star in "The Man Who Came Over One Mountain" but he's all tied up in motion picture commitments. EARL WILSON:

Petrillo and Lawyers

NEW YORK — It was a night that made me glad I left the farm.

All the glittering stars were out — Margaret Truman and fiance, Marlene Dietrich, Joan Crawford, Nanette Fabray, Cyd Charisse — but music czar James Caesar Petrillo outshone everybody with an impromptu speech at the Friars' banquet for Ed Sullivan.

Not that Jimmy Petrillo outdid Rex Harrison and Julie Andrews whose "My Fair Lady" is the greatest musical of our time. Petrillo somehow got to lawyers.

"Lawyers!" he sneered. "A lawyer, you can trust him with anything you got, if you haven't got anything. I got a staff of lawyers at $200,000 a year, and believe me, I have to tell them how to keep me outa jail."

Tenderly, he told of visiting Franklin D. Roosevelt to ask for help for his union.

"Any of you who knew President Roosevelt will understand how that trip down to Washington cost my union $250,000," he said.

TOASTMASTER Joe E. Lewis who claimed he'd recently had a throat operation — "I once swallowed a shot glass in Chicago" — begged to introduce "the greatest fisher body in the world," Debbie Reynolds.

For Julie Andrews, 20, the daughter of London "showfolk," this was the greatest evening of her life. She is henceforth one of the world's greatest stars. The theme is early expressed by a British professor who says "There are places in the world where English completely disappears; in America they haven't used it for years."

Somehow came also this tale. Purportedly Irving Berlin heard a rock-and-roll hit record and expressed surprise. "Isn't it amazing," he said, "that a song like that should be written by a 13-year-old boy?" . . . "Is it so amazing?" asked a friend . . . "It is," said Berlin. "I thought songs like that'd be written by 6-year-old boys!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Bing Crosby's frozen fruit company reportedly faces investigation on competitors' complaints of monopoly. . . . Kim Novak and Frank Sinatra are set for the film, "Pal Joey" . . . Dick Haymes will sell his west coast home and become a New Yorker; he'll head a TV production outfit that includes brother Bob . . . AGVA and the Teamsters Union may picket the circus on opening night.

Paramount wants ex-Boxing Comm. Bob Christenberry to help boss the promotion and distribution of "Ten Commandments" . . . Is Eddie Cantor planning a screen return in "The Fifth Season"? . . . Ava Gardner's in Mallorca, aboard Errol Flynn's yacht — but Flynn's in H'wood! . . . Renee Roy, a former Miss New York City, was signed for "The Ziegfeld Follies."

EARL'S PEARLS

We admire those bold politicians and military men who have decided that at last it can be told — at $2.50 a word — Bank Magazine.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Chris Schenkel spotted this sign along an Ohio road: "This Is God's Country. Don't Drive Like a Bat Out of Hell."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Ted Steele found a REALLY rich Texan. This guy has a different dentist for each tooth.

"Whatever it is that keeps people from getting rich," sighs Tony Petrillo, "most of us have it." That's earl, brother.

ROBERT S. ALLEN:

Truman in Quandary

WASHINGTON — Former President Harry Truman is in a quandary.

He is being pulled in sharply opposite directions in the increasingly stormy and muddled Democratic presidential contest.

One group of close friends is insistently urging him to throw his influence behind the hard-headed candidacy of Adlai Stevenson, while other intimate advisers are pressing against that. They want Truman to continue his present policy of backing no one publicly, while privately counseling state and local leaders to send unpledged delegates to the Chicago convention.

Foremost among these inner rival factions are:

FOR STEVENSON: Former Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who has helped Truman extensively on his recently-published memoirs and with legal and financial problems of his Library Foundation; former Air Force Secretary, Thomas Finletter, N. Y.; George Killian, head of American Presidents Line, Calif.; and David Lawrence, long-time Pittsburgh Mayor and Pennsylvania National Committee-man.

ANTIS: Former National Chairman Frank McKinney, Indianapolis banker, who privately favors Senator Stuart Symington, Mo.; Edwin Pauley, California oil millionaire, who is supporting Senator Estes Kefauver but is hinting that a "compromise" candidate may be advisable; and Governor Averell Harriman, whose White House yearnings haven't gotten far but who is still doggedly hopeful.

To determine his course in the coming eventful months, Truman conferred with leaders of all camps during his latest trip East.

But while the former President did a lot of talking, he carefully did not declare for anyone. He stuck firmly to his hands-off stand. But he did agree to consider certain "suggestions" from Stevenson supporters.

Prominent among those with whom Truman talked are: James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager; Joseph "Jiggs" Donohue, Kefauver's campaign manager; Pennsylvania's young Governor George Leader, who is highly regarded by Truman as "future presidential timber." Representative John McCormack, Mass., Acting Speaker of the House, and other congressional leaders.

PRO AND CON — A mystery in this tense backstage jockeying is the curious role of former National Chairman McKinney.

The Indiana, who has never gotten over being ditched by Stevenson in 1952, is flitting about the country urging uncommitted convention delegations on Democratic leaders. He spent several days in Washington talking to congressional chiefs.

In these discussions, McKinney claimed credit for persuading New Jersey's Governor Robert Meyner to take a neutral stand.

"In view of your close relations with Truman," asked one congressional leader: "what does he think about that? I assume he knows about it and what you are doing."

"You don't think I would be doing this," replied McKinney, "if Harry didn't approve of it. I am in constant touch with him and keep him informed of everything I do."

Kettmann Asks Change in Laws to Block Crime

Police Chief August G. Kettmann, citing the recent Cahan decision, said Saturday that trained men in the legal profession seem to be conspiring to complicate things through their rulings and interpretations, and that odds are increasing rapidly in favor of the criminal.

Kettmann, who addressed a meeting of convening law officers at Chi Chi restaurant, asked that the legal profession accept a "responsibility to see that those (search and seizure) laws are not so written that they establish obstacles to enforcement."

The Cahan decision, briefly, ruled that a defendant found guilty in preliminary court hearing after evidence which was gained illegally (wire tapping et al) is objected to and overruled and admitted as evidence, then the verdict will be reversed in a higher court.

"Recently in San Diego county officers recognized two known narcotics peddlers in an automobile and while they had no evidence that these men were in possession they stopped the car and making a search found several thousand dollars worth of narcotics. The men were arrested, taken to court and in the Superior Court the matter was dismissed because the officers had no prior knowledge and simply stopping the car and making a search, in the opinion of the court, was an illegal act," Kettmann told the men.

He concluded by saying that "Society needs to be protected against the criminal forces which these laws seem to favor today."

C of C Directors Urge Support of Police Show

Board of directors of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce to-day adopted a resolution in support of the seventh annual Palm Springs Police Show which will be given Saturday night at the High school quadrangle.

In stating that the show "deserves the wholehearted support and cooperation of each and every resident and visitor in the Palm Springs area," the board added "the almost unbelievable line-up of star-studded personalities and the outstanding band of Les Brown promises to be an entertainment value seldom if ever equaled."

General admission seats are still available for the show and dance.

AN APRIL BRIDE will be Betty Lou Callan, daughter of former Villagers, the Earl Callans, who will wed Dr. Kenneth Frederick Morgan in Beverly Hills on Saturday, April 7. Invitations were received here this week for the wedding reception which will be held in the Persian Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel. This picture of Betty was taken here at the Racquet Club, during one of her frequent visits. (Anderson Photo)

Garden Club Plans Tour

Plans were made for their two outstanding annual events, both to be held in April, when the Palm Springs Garden Club held its March session at the home of Mrs. Gwynne (Mary) Hurrell on Saturday.

The first, the Garden Tours, will be on April 10, and four beautifully gardened estates will be open to the visitors, who will be guided by Garden Club members. The tour will be from 2 to 5 o'clock and will start at 315 Via Las Palmas.

The annual Flower Show will be April 14, with the public invited to enter flowers and arrangements. It will be in the Center, as usual. The business meeting, presided over by president Jerry Bunker,

Gala Party Celebrates St. Patrick's

Green balloons and cut-out shamrocks, interlaced with white crepe paper in a woven effect, decorated the dining room at Thunderbird for their St. Patrick's party Saturday night. Dancing was to the music of the new orchestra, the Royal Lanters.

In one party were Messrs. and Mesdames Milt Hicks, Ken Evans, Richard Long and Bob Hall. In another, the Ralph Singers, Ross Clarkes, Victor Hugo Vidal, Sid Richardson and Helen Worth.

The Eric Staintons, Lou Manseau and Kent Hayes' were together. With the Joe Froggatts were the Don Sessions of Arcadia, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Inglis of Pasadena, who were houseguests of the H. F. Sayres. A foursome were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tuma and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dyer.

Charles Nichols (president of Bel-Air Country Club), and Col. Hunter were with Clarence Brown. The Chauncey Needhams had Mr. and Mrs. Davison and Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Arata of San Mateo as their guests.

Others in the gala crowd were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lindley of Pebble Beach, Mr. and Mrs. W. Trulson of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. J. Pike of Hollywood, and Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hills (Hills Brothers Coffee) of San Francisco.

Tea Dance Attracts Gay Crowd

As one of the most delightful weekends of the season came to a close on Sunday afternoon many members of the Winter resident set and their houseguests joined the visitors at the La Paz for the weekly tea dansant. A setting sun greeted the first arrivals and as the balmy evening progressed the festive group enjoyed the tea table and al fresco dancing.

Among those present were Mrs. Lillian Schlothan and her houseguests, Mrs. Russell Stephen of Seattle and Mrs. Doris Gustafson of San Francisco. Mrs. Schlothan presided over the tea table during the early part of the evening.

Mrs. Harold Bell Wright arrived with her guests Mr. and Mrs. James Forward of San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Casey entertained the John Boyles at one of the patio side tables.

Mrs. Frank Russell Payne of Palm Springs and Reno chose the tea dansant as the gathering spot for a dinner party later in the evening in the Spar and Sable Room. Enjoying Mrs. Payne's beautiful table decorated with silver place cards and black and pale blue candles were: Mrs. John O. Mosley, a Reno houseguest of Mrs. Payne, Mrs. Noble Banks and her houseguest, Stella Leisen, Col. and Mrs. Edward Banning, Franklyn McManus, Ralph Wilcox Taylor, George Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hilton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robertson and Mrs. John Blish.

Green Beans

NEW YORK — Next time green beans are on the menu, try this variation. Drain the liquid from a can of cut green beans into a saucepan and cook down to about half the original amount. Add 1 tablespoon of butter, 1 teaspoon of dry mustard and 1 teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce. Season with salt and pepper.

Villager Marie Trott, who has been with her son Judge Emil G. Trott in Iowa City, Iowa, since last fall, is much improved in health, according to word received here. She can be reached at her son's home at 331 South Summit in Iowa City.

Blackstones Have Granddaughter

Rev. and Mrs. James Blackstone Jr. have received word of the birth of a granddaughter. The little girl, Kathleen Dawn, was born to Pvt. and Mrs. James Blackstone III in Orleans, France, on March 15, and weighed six pounds 15 ounces. Her other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burkhardt of Los Altos, California.

Morgans are Hosts on Anniversary

Harry and Ethel Morgan of Longview, Washington, chose the Tennis Club to entertain a number of their friends at dinner Sunday evening. The inspiration for the function was the 48th wedding anniversary of the Morgans. An exquisite floral centerpiece and corsages for the women which were distributed at the table, lent color to the dinner decor.

Mr. Morgan has recently retired as general manager of the Longview Division of the Weyerhaeuser Timber Company and is now serving as a member of the Washington State Highway Commission. Currently the Morgans are vacationing at The Place-in-the-Sun.

Present Sunday evening, in addition to the host and hostess, were the couple's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morgan, of Coos Bay, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. James Torrence, Mr. and Mrs. William Sailors and Mr. and Mrs. John McClelland, all of Longview. Mr. McClelland, a perennial Palm Springs Winter visitor, is publisher of the Longview Daily News. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Galbreath of Tacoma, Washington. Three of the couples, the Torrences, Galbreaths and McClellands have purchased homes in the new Desert Braemar which is to be built this Summer.

Former Villagers Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cavallier, their daughter Dee-dee, and her classmate Diane McManus, all of Las Vegas, were visitors here this weekend. They were guests at La Voranda hotel and called on many of their old friends during their stay. They were dinner guests at the Sal Alessandro home Saturday evening.

Weekend Guests at Burgess Home

Mr. and Mrs. William Burgess of La Mirada Hills, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Matthews, Saturday evening the little family group celebrated Mr. Matthews' birthday with a dinner at the Matthews home. Another daughter, Grace Matthews, was also present.

Sunday evening the Matthews were hosts at dinner at the Tennis Club for their houseguests and Mr. and Mrs. Barney Adelaar of Palm Springs and New York. Mr. Adelaar is a manufacturer of ladies' blouses.

Mrs. Don Jensen of Bishop, the former Shirley Doyle, was here from Friday through Monday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. George Doyle.

Every Monday night at Shadow Mountain Club is Coronation Night... and some woman guest is crowned Queen for the Night... And, of course, everyone is familiar with the Queen for a Day program that emanates from a Los Angeles radio station... Right now, one of the Queens, Matilla Real of San Diego, is a guest at the Rossmore... She is enjoying a royal treat... a few days in Palm Springs... These days and these nights are not just for royalty... They are for all of us lucky enough to live here... Wave your sceptre and make a wish... and it could only be... for more leisure to enjoy this glamour spot of the American desert...

Janet Jaynes arrived today to spend a few weeks with her parents, Frankie and Oliver Jaynes... Janet has been in Washington, D. C., for months... as editorial assistant on Military Magazine, which is published by the Army Times publishing company...

The Leo Reardons entertained at a cocktail-buffet at their Tucson Road home... Guests were mostly Angeleno friends down for the weekend... including Uncle Ben Meyer and Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz...

Add another St. Patrick's Day birthday celebrant... George Robins, who is in charge of Jimmy Van Heusen's cocktail lounge at the Desert Inn... He was pouring champagne Saturday night... for friends who dropped in to say "Happy Birthday"...

I hear that Kay and Clark Gable will be down to spend the weekend... with friends at Thunderbird...

The Paul Dodsons, formerly of Minneapolis, where he was in the lumber business... entertained 28 friends... mostly from Minneapolis... at a Sunday night cocktail party at their apartment at Desert Isle... Among the guests were the Adolph Bremers, Denny Grants, Max Schwabs, John Campbells, and a brother John Dodson and his wife, who are staying at Smoke Tree...

Incidentally, any Desert Isle guests suffering from insomnia... and trying the time-honored custom of counting sheep... must have thought they were hearing things the other night... They really were, too... When they investigated the "baa-baa-baaing" outside... they found Smoke Tree's little black sheep was paying them a middle of the night visit...

Mrs. J. P. Stephens of New Jersey, mother of the former Secretary of the Army... and her daughter-in-law Mrs. Ruth Bovey Stephens of Minneapolis... are staying at the Desert Inn... Mrs. George Holstein of Thunderbird, is a niece of Mrs. Stephens...

The Brewster Morgans, who leased the Hammond house on Hermosa this winter, were Saturday night dining at the Racquet Club... with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Weybright (he is the New York publisher of American Library)...

Mrs. Frederick McNear left Tuesday to return to her home in San Francisco... after spending several weeks in Palm Springs... She was a guest at the Racquet Club for a time... and has been at the Desert Inn for the past three weeks... The popular San Franciscan was much entertained during her stay here...

The Easter Night Symphony... which will bring the Los Angeles Philharmonic to Palm Springs... is proving extremely popular... with all the box seats sold out already... There are still plenty of other seats available... and the concert will sound good from any of them...

Count and Countess Lukavichki were weekend guests of Mrs. Hortense Murray... spending a few quiet days in the sunshine by the pool of her Calle Rolph home... The Count is from Vienna... but his Countess (Lee) is an American girl from Long Beach... where they are now living...

Bertha (Mrs. Roy) Simmons entertained around 30 at a luncheon at Thunderbird today... for her houseguest Lucille (Mrs. Stewart) Weiss... The visitor, who has been here since the first of March... leaves for her home in Sweet Home, Oregon, on Tuesday...

Gourmets Dine Armenian Style with the Becks

Martin and Verkina Beck hosted the gourmet enthusiasts with an Armenian dinner at their home Saturday evening. Cocktails were poured prior to the dinner which was served Turkish style and given an Oriental touch when flaming skewers of shishkabob (lamb) were brought to the diners and later highlighted with such dishes as pilaf (glorified rice) and gaprak (stuffed grape leaves). The remainder of the evening was spent in a conversational social and dessert. Present were Bob and Millie Linsky, Rick and Barbara Harrison, Dixie and Mel Bren, Frances Holmes and W. D. Daniels.

What Happens to All Those Disappearing Tennis Balls?

Tennis popularity took a sharp upsurge this weekend among La Paz guests. The tennis court area was busy every day as both spectators and participants alike played, sunned, watched and discussed their favorite subject. A quick survey taken poolside proved that almost half of the registered guests had brought their own racquets with them, more than half had brought tennis shoes and shorts, but less than 10 per cent had packed tennis balls. This in turn led into another discussion, what happens to used tennis balls?

The family players were quick to answer that the children seem to prefer tennis balls for catch more than any other type and the newer the ball the better they like it. The non-family players agreed that most of the balls are left on the court edges or never retrieved when they happen over a fence. All agreed on one thing, they had never seen out a tennis ball.

Among the many guests enjoying the courts were: Mrs. P. M. Endicott of New York City. So enthusiastic is Priscilla that she plays each day and also takes a lesson every morning. The Arthur Bells of Beverly Hills and the Michael Wilsons of Arcadia were a doubles group each morning and late afternoon.

Deserving an "A" for effort and endurance were Tyler Combs and Ted Ashton of Los Angeles who staged the battle of the singles for three days running.

The Elwood Washburns of Providence, Rhode Island, organized some fine mixed doubles. This popular young couple leave for home in New England on Monday.

Claytons Have Weekend Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Roy N. Clayton of 681 North Calle Rolph, spent the weekend at their home entertaining out-of-town friends. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mrs. Clarence L. Alton of Southland, Mrs. Edith Klatt and Mrs. Mark Davis, both of Tujunga, and Mrs. Clayton's sister, Mrs. Verda Payne of Palo Alto.

According to Mrs. Clayton the guests had been looking forward to this trip to Palm Springs and thoroughly enjoyed the rest and sunshine. Mr. Clayton is on the Los Angeles county planning commission. His guest, Mr. Alton, is owner of the Southland Amusement park.

Multiple Use Detergent is Edible

By PETER HAYES
United Press Staff Correspondent
SAN FRANCISCO — Science has come up with a new detergent that is just what the ad writers have been waiting for.

You can wash the dishes with it. You can brush your teeth with it. You can put out a snow-white washing with it.

And if you get hungry you can take a bite of it. It's edible.

Dr. H. B. Hass of New York, president of the Sugar Research Foundation, told a meeting of the Society of Sugar Beet Technologists that this truly "all-purpose" detergent should be on the market in bar and powder form in the next year or so.

Dr. Hass describes it as "a chemical marriage between fats and sugar." The scientific name for it is "sugar ester," and it consists of 42 per cent animal or vegetable fat and 58 per cent sugar.

According to Dr. Hass sugar ester is colorless, odorless, tasteless, non-toxic and nutritious. It's also cheap—costing about 13 cents a pound to manufacture.

Sugar ester will be a boon to housewives living in hard-water regions. No more ring around the tub after a bath, according to Hass.

Although primarily developed as a cleaning agent, Hass said, sugar ester also has proved valuable to persons with pancreatic trouble.

"These people cannot digest fats," he says. "Often you see elderly people with pancreas trouble who seem to be wasting away. But adding sugar to the fat serves to emulsify or break down the fat and permit it to be digested."

The sugar is the key to the detergent's cleaning quality. It breaks down dirt or grease and lets the water wash it away.

Dutchers Have Busy Weekend

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dutcher of 730 Paseo El Mirador, have been busy receiving out-of-state guests for the past week. Their son-in-law, Alex Manier, of Appleton, Wisconsin, arrived Tuesday while his daughter Susan, a student at Northwestern University joined her family on Friday. Other members of the Alex Manier family, which includes his wife Ellen, and children Marcia, Judy and John, have been visiting at the Dutcher home for the past two months. Miss Mary Firnall of San Francisco also arrived over the weekend to spend several days with the Dutcher.

Saturday evening the Dutchers hosted a dinner at the Racquet Club and included their houseguests and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Will of Seattle, Washington, and Dr. and Mrs. John Souel of Monrovia. The latter two couples have been guests at the Oasis Hotel for the past month. Sunday the group, with Helen Thompson of Palm Springs, attended El Mirador brunch as guests of the Dutchers. The Alex Manier family will return to their home the first of the month.

EASY SPRING DESSERT

NEW YORK — For a quick Springtime dessert, serve lime-mint banana cup. Combine 5 sliced bananas (4 cups) with 1/4 cup of fresh lime juice, and 2 tablespoons of chopped fresh mint. Toss lightly. Chill and serve in sherbert glasses. Garnish with prigs of fresh mint. 5 servings.

WARMING COMBINATION

CHICAGO — A combination heating unit, air circulator and light has been designed for installation in ceilings. The fan forces hot air, which rises, back down into the room. The manufacturer showed the unit at the convention of the National Association of Home Builders.

Negro Baritone to Close Redlands Concert Series

William Warfield, "one of the most profoundly satisfactory vocal artists of our time . . ." closes the University of Redlands Concert Series when he sings in the Memorial Chapel Monday, April 3.

In the few years since his spectacular Town Hall debut in 1950, Warfield has met with enthusiastic response with each new appearance, both here and abroad.

Warfield was born in Arkansas, the oldest of five boys. His father had only a few years of grade school and wanted passionately to be an educated man. So he moved his family to Rochester, N.Y. He worked from before dawn until about noon collecting garbage, rested a little, and went to school. Thus it happened that all seven Warfields, parents and sons, began studying from the same books. Robert Warfield is now pastor of the Mount Vernon Baptist Church in Rochester.

The young Warfield had certain musical prejudices. It didn't seem to him quite manly that as a boy soprano in the church choir he could hit High C with ease. So he developed a mysterious throat ailment and didn't sing for five or six years. When he did he was a baritone.

The great Eastman School of Music in Rochester, where William Warfield was admitted on a scholarship, was his real musical training.

ing, and he has gone on from there to about everything except opera. A singer must eat, and he was singing in nightclubs when in Toronto, the break came. A young Canadian stock broker, Walter Carr, heard him, liked him and put up the money for his Town Hall debut.

Since then, Warfield has toured this country, Canada, Australia, Europe and Latin America on the concert stage. He played Porgy in the first European company of "Porgy and Bess" in 1952 and Bess, Leontyne Price, shortly became Mrs. Warfield. He has appeared in "Call Me Mister," "Set My People Free" and "Regina," and moviegoers will remember him singing "Ol' Man River" in MGM's "Showboat."

Last year, as a part of the American cultural invasion of the Continent, he toured with the Philadelphia Symphony, appearing in Paris, Milan, Strassbourg, Berlin, Lisbon, Barcelona and Madrid. Tickets for this concert are now available in the Concert Series Office, University of Redlands.

To plan a well-balanced meal, avoid one color combinations. Serve at least one green vegetable. Colorful food has strong appetite appeal and a variety in food color helps assure a better selection of nutrients.

PAGEANT OF PEARLS will present a fabulous collection of pearls at Andrea of Palm Springs shops at Howard Manor and at 193 South Palm Canyon, from March 23 through April 8. Here, Kay Salndon, right, gives Mrs. William Cody a preview of some of $250,000 worth of the treasures to be shown here.

The pageant represents two years of painstaking search for rare pearl treasures by the shop's owner, Andrea Leeds Howard, who visited such faraway places as the Orient in her search. These include pearls of every size and hue, from all the waters of the world.

Salad Dressing

NEW YORK — Try a tomato and mayonnaise dressing next time head lettuce salad is on the menu. Add one cup of finely chopped fresh tomatoes, and 1/4 teaspoon each of ground black pepper and cayenne to one cup of mayonnaise. Serve on wedges of lettuce, or as a topping for potato or fish salads.

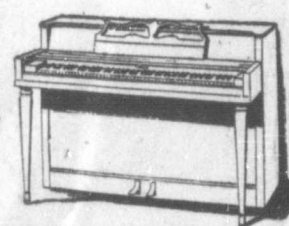

Use Wax

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. — The West Virginia University home economics department suggested application of a coat of wax on the screw-top section of a nail polish bottle. If applied when the bottle first is opened, the cap will not stick later on.

By BILL RASHALL

My telephone has been ringing lately—not steadily I wish to inject at this point, but often anyway, and what has been poured into my good ear I wish at this time to pass on to our good Sheriff Joe Rice in Riverside.

In essence, was informed that anyone who likes to play the horses without the trouble of traveling to an authorized state gambling institution called a pari-mutuel racing plant, can place a bet with a bookie in Riverside and not too far from the courthouse. There's a bookie in West Riverside too, I am informed, who has been operating for years—"that is if he hasn't passed on," one informant said. Some of these people hail from Riverside too, who believe it or not, have a sympathetic regard for Palm Springs.

I DON'T PLAY the horses' and, in all of the years I have lived, have been to a race track about three times and all of those have been at Santa Anita.

But I know one thing, learned as a newshawk in Los Angeles and other cities that those who can't resist the temptation of putting two bucks on a horse's nose will find a way of doing so and the guys that take the bets will be knocked over by the police sooner or later. That's their job and one job that should take place as soon as possible is to do a little cleaning in the backyard of, or within the shadow of, the Riverside Court House where Sheriff Joe Rice hangs his hat.

THE CIRCUS came to town the other day and there was many a kid in this town who failed to see the elephants and the clowns perform. They never tucked their fingers into a box of cracker-jacks or cracked a peanut in the great American tradition. The circus show went on just the same before a handful of youngsters. Why?

NOW THERE COMES to mind budget time for the city's expenses for the year of 1956-57 and if it wouldn't be possible to include therein the cost of hiring a social worker. There is a definite need for one in this community who can work with families who in the mad rush of playing or working during the winter season sometimes forget about the welfare of their children. This need reaches all social stratas in our resort city from those who drive a Ford and live in a two or three room house to the families that occupy mansions. Consider the employment of a social worker as against the employment of a humane officer to see that our stray dogs are taken care of, and the hiring of a parks and recreation director. The latter of such great importance you know, because Palm Springs has such a vast parks system and a white elephant on Sunrise Way called the Polo Grounds. Incidentally, what's wrong with Howard Haddock who has worked so hard and so long as recreation director for this city? Don't we ever give our loyal employees a chance to get ahead in city government?

DID YOU EVER meet this man called Hal Waltz? He is the general manager of the Palm Springs Community Television Corporation. It is the opinion of many in this town that if it had not been for the efficient management and sales ability of Hal Waltz we would not have television in Palm Springs on the scale as it is today.

Within the city limits of this town there are more than 2,000 TV sets hooked up to the community cable system. As a result we are able to enjoy some of the finest TV shows produced from coast-to-coast. It was also estimated that approximately seven persons per set in operation in Palm Springs view the shows daily in hotels, homes, cocktail lounges and trailer courts. That's more than 15,000 persons daily! Waltz, you've done a great job and placed TV on a par with nothing else to equal it in this town for home entertainment.

BY THE WAY Ace Hudkins over KPAL every afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. is plugging away trying to help the Community Chest reach its goal of $50,000. For one dime, a person can cast one vote for their favorite singer. As a result Ace has collected a few shekels for the Chest. Pitch in and send some dimes in for your favorite songster.

Two of our best citizens are in the hospital. Hutch Moseley for more than a week—heart—and on the critical list, and Vic Sudaha of the Palm House, whose condition is reported as fair.

A silent prayer for these two wouldn't hurt a bit, peoples.

Cancer Research Expanded, Dr. Elliott Reports

Research toward widening the control of cancer and finding new cures for it is being expanded this year by the American Cancer Society, Dr. Wm. H. Elliott, Jr., director of the Riverside County Branch of the American Cancer Society, announced today.

"This year the Society will support the work of about 1,000 top-flight scientists in 152 hospitals, universities and laboratories in 37 states and the District of Columbia," Dr. Elliott said. Working with these key investigators will be some 3,000 younger men and women who are serving as technicians or being trained as researchers themselves.

"Nearly $7,000,000 has been allocated to this year's research program for the 1956-57 fiscal year. Beside contributions from the general public, that figure includes a $500,000 gift in memory of Charles Hayden, a cancer victim."

"In the past eleven years the American Cancer Society has devoted more than $41,000,000 to medical and scientific research." Dr. Elliott said the cancer research program is constantly being widened as new clues to the possible cause and cure of cancer are uncovered in laboratories across the nation. He urged general local support of the American Cancer Society's current Cancer Crusade, now being conducted here under chairmanship of Ray Lusby.

Carl L. Johnson, local resident, who formerly owned a home on Via Altamira, has purchased the large corner lot on Valmonte del Norte and Via Chica near the Howard Manor, where he plans to build a home.

The sale was handled by Peter B. Sheptenko of the Pioneer Realty Company.

In 1890, New York led the nation with 1,437,855 milk cows. Wisconsin was ninth with 478,374. By 1950, Wisconsin was first with 2,075,570, while New York dropped to third with 1,217,596.

Dr. O. B. McRory Returns Here After 3 Years

Dr. and Mrs. O. B. McRory have returned to the Village after an absence of three years, and have purchased the Don Sailer home at 628 Desert Way from Peter B. Sheptenko, local realtor.

Doctor McRory, a popular Village veterinarian, formerly had the Desert Animal Hospital on Sunny Dunes for 12 years prior to moving to San Francisco. As soon as arrangements are completed to sell his business in San Francisco, he plans to resume his veterinary practice here in the Village.

Members of the McRory family who are enjoying the new home and swimming pool are a son, Jim, who is at present with the Air Force in Mississippi, and who will be home Easter; Bill, age 10, a student at Katherine Finchy school and Mary, 5, at home.

Father of Police Chief Succumbs

Funeral services for August J. Kettmann, of 32469 Navajo Trail, father of the police chief, will be held in San Jose Friday.

Kettmann, who had wintered here for the past 10 years, died yesterday, at the age of 85, following a stroke about two weeks ago.

Born in San Jose, he had reached and been with the Bank of America there before retiring in 1936.

Services will be conducted at St. Mary's Church in San Jose, followed by interment at Oak Hill Cemetery. Wiefels & Son is in charge here.

Beside his son, Kettmann is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Albert Larsen, of Estacada, Oregon. The Chief will accompany his father's body to San Jose.

THE STORY OF HELEN OF TROY

IN 1100 B.C. the city of Troy, impregnable behind her mighty walls was a tempting prize of war for the Greek kingdoms to the south. King Priam and Hecuba, queen of Troy, send their son, Paris on the mission of peace. Paris' ship is storm-tossed and Paris is swept to sea. On the coast of Sparta, Paris regains consciousness, looking into the face of Helen. When Paris goes to the Spartan palace, he finds a council meeting of the Greek kings planning an attack on Troy. To win the ear of King Menelaus, Paris fights a battle with the powerful Ajax. Paris' agility proves superior to Ajax' strength. (Continued tomorrow)

Palm Springs Deputy DA Gets Steno Assist, Warren Blows Off Steam

By a vote of three to two the supervisors this week approved a recommendation by County Administrative Officer Clay Begole to accept an offer by the City of Palm Springs to share the services of the city attorney's secretary, for secretarial services of the deputy district attorney, for a fee of $150 per month.

Begole pointed out that the recently established deputy DA's office adjoins that of the city attorney in the Palm-Springs city hall. He said the secretary will be available at all times to answer phone calls, act as receptionist, and do necessary typing and other secretarial work and save the county approximately $75 per month.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY William O. Mackey has attempted to find a legal stenographer-clerk and believes the city's offer solves the problem the supervisors were told, for the present. He indicated that as the office becomes more firmly established, the amount of work will increase, and a full time stenographer will be needed. Mackey has assigned Deputy District Attorney John B. Morgan to the new Palm Springs office.

Voting for the contract with the City of Palm Springs for secretarial services were Supervisors Berkey, Anderson and Jones; voting against it were Supervisors Warren and McCall.

"From the standpoint of efficiency and economy it is a good move," commented Supervisor George Berkey. Supervisor Roman Warren said he understands Morgan may carry on private practice. Said he, "I object to the subsidizing from public tax funds of an office of the district attorney by the furnishing of salaries, library, telephone, clerical help or any other item of expense where said office is used in any degree for private gain in competition with private professional enterprise."

"I object to the possible division of loyalty, where the district attorney or his representatives are paid a salary out of public tax money and at the same time be permitted to accept a retaining fee, possibly a sizable fee, from a potential law breaker."

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
Reg. U.S. Pat. Off.

NEW YORK (AP) — Life looks good this spring to the man who, at long last, may prove to be the "new Lou Gehrig."

That would be Bill The Moose Skowron, a hulking young fellow with tremendous power and bonafide promise. He has everything to fill the first base gap the Yankees have known since the "Iron Horse" rusted away.

And, after two bitter disappointments, Skowron is giving it the big try which finally may pay off. The first of his black moments came after he had been in the Yankee chain three years. A football star at Purdue, the Polish boy from Chicago had left his collegiate aspirations behind him for a $20,000 bonus.

HIS RISE WAS swift. In 1951, the Moose led the Piedmont League with a .334 average and the following season he was the Minor League Player of the Year as he hit .341 at Kansas City, leading the American Assn. with 31 homers and 134 runs batted in.

But the next spring, he was one of the first players cut from the Yankee roster. Skowron, who headed south with high hopes, let it get him down. His play at Kansas City suffered and he batted "only" .318 in 1953.

Getting back on the ball, he made the Yankees the next year and hit .340 in 87 games. The Yankees finally figured that Moose was "it."

IN THE YEARS since Gehrig stepped down, first base always has been a big problem with the Bombers. As season followed season, they tried a total of more than 30 different players at the position. None lasted very long or did the old Gehrig job.

Last spring the club was convinced that, finally, the situation was solved with long-awaited brilliancy.

For the Moose was banging the ball like one of those ancient denizens of Murderers Row. He even looked the part, being a 200-pound six footer of the old mold.

Through the spring and into the start of the regular season, Skowron was tremendous. Then, on April 27, when he was leading the American League in hitting and in runs batted in, it happened.

RUNNING OUT a triple, he pulled a thigh muscle and was out five weeks.

It worried him. For the first time in a busy athletic career he had been injured. And when he came back he was over anxious. He pressed, lost the strike zone and began to swing at bad pitches. Slowly his average collapsed and he wound up the season batting .319 in 108 games.

But this spring it's different. This is the old Skowron of the liquid power swing and eagle eye, a man chock full of confidence. Last week, for example, he hit .470 in seven games.

Only the Grapefruit League, you'll say. But Casey Stengel sums it up:

"He's a feller full uh muscles—and it's nice to see him using them all again."

Small wonder the Yankees think this finally could be "it!"

No Pressure Says Retiring Brighton

SEATTLE (AP) — Horace Albert (Al) Brighton insisted today "there was no pressure" involved in his resigning as head basketball coach at Seattle University.

Still unimpressed was the question of why the popular coach whose teams won 180 victories against 68 defeats during his eight-year tenure stepped down from the job.

The Rev. Robert Rebhahn, S.J., the school's athletic director, denied Brighton's arguments on the sidelines at Corvallis last Saturday with John Wooden, UCLA coach, precipitated the resignation.

Easter Sunday in 1956 is on April 1.

San Diegos Record First Home Victory

Elliott's Three-Run Double Sparks Big Inning By Padres

San Diego's Padres finally broke the ice at the Polo Grounds and won a game at home, defeating Vancouver 8 to 5. The victory gave them a 3-2 mark for the training season to date.

Today the Pads are at Anaheim to meet the Hollywood Stars and tomorrow entertain the Los Angeles Angels here starting at 1:30 p.m.

Saturday and Sunday they will play host to the Cleveland Indians, former home team of Ralph Kiner, now general manager of the San Diego club.

IN YESTERDAY'S GAME, Harvey Elliott smacked a timely three-run double in the fifth inning to spark a six-run rally that put the Pads ahead of the Mounties to stay.

Vancouver had taken a 3-0 lead in the first inning on Dino Restelli's three-run homer.

The victory was San Diego's second over Vancouver. So far they have split with Seattle, whom they play in a third game Friday, and lost to Portland.

PREPARATIONS to handle a large crowd of desert area fans and many from other sections, Saturday and Sunday are being made by Kiner, Manager Bob Elliott of the Pads and Howard Hadcock, city recreation supervisor.

It will be the second invasion of Southern California by a Major League club, the Indians having played the Giants in Los Angeles last weekend.

Previous record crowd for the Polo Grounds was when the Giants played Seattle here a few years ago.

MORRISON ON GOLF

MIDDLECOFF BEST STARTING 1956

By ALEX J. MORRISON

Author of "A New Way to Better Golf," Teacher of Champions

MIDDLECOFF has taken his place among the champions to beat in open tournaments. His start on the 1956 winter tour is largely responsible for this. He didn't put his fine game together during the L. A. Open, but it lined up beautifully at Del Monte, enabling him to wade through the field with a remarkable performance.

Though exposed to considerable damp weather and the prevalent virus he stood to win the Thunderbird Invitational at Palm Springs. He went into the last round with a comfortable lead over the veteran Jimmy Demaret. Despite better weather Doc felt as though he was dragging himself around. It looked as though the cold bugs had him. It showed his play bringing him. It showed in his play bringing him.

THE FOLLOWING week at Phoenix frost marked the first two days, but at the end of three rounds Cary enjoyed a two-stroke lead over Mike Souchak.

Again he experienced that draggy feeling. Remembering the effect on his last round at Thunderbird I urged him to use a simple effective anti-acid. This kept him sharp enough to turn in a 68 for his fourth round.

On the long 18th hole at the Phoenix C. C., where he has suffered severe penalties for inferior second shots, Doc drilled a long wood shot right over the cup and nearly holed the putt for an eagle three.

He credits his improved play to two things. An almost complete victory over his chronic hay fever and his use of an old-style aluminum putter. We talked a lot about this putter because it has always been a favorite of mine, having qualities not found in the modern clubs. In the near future I'll give you the details about it and show you pictures of it.

It seems as though Middlecoff could win more than his share of tournaments in 1956, including the big titles.

Dekker Joins 'Skins'

WASHINGTON (AP) — End Paul Dekker signed with the Washington Redskins Tuesday to bring the number of players under contract to 22.

Fagaly and Shorten

COACHES SCHOLL and Kazmier have initiated a new baseball program this year in which the varsity and J.V. practice together and act, more or less, as one unit. Although no varsity positions are set, it would be reasonable to assume that the following boys will make up the core of the squad: Victor Reyes, a returning letterman, will be behind the plate; Lloyd Brubaker, Leroy Segundo, and Skip Martin will make up the pitching staff. The probable starting infield will be Obe Crawford at first, Rob Faulkner at second, Eddie Tarr at the shortstop position and either Skip Martin or Jeff Gale at third base.

IN THE OUTFIELD Sam Jones will play left, Charlie Brown, center, and Frank Tokar, right. On Friday the Indians will return to the Polo Grounds to take on 29 Palms in another practice game. In all, the local baseballers will play seven practice games and an equal amount of league contests.

Court Again Puts Santee on Sidelines

AAU Suspension Of Star Runner Is Back In Effect

NEW YORK (AP)—Wes Santee's suspension from track was back in effect today as state Supreme Court Judge Walter A. Lynch prepared to receive further evidence in the suit brought by Santee against the Amateur Athletic Union.

Judge Lynch put Santee on the sidelines yesterday when he discontinued, at least temporarily, the Supreme Court injunction Santee had obtained against his suspension.

THAT MEANS THAT, as matters now stand, Santee won't be eligible to run in the Chicago Daily News track meet in Chicago. Under the injunction, Santee had competed in three meets during this indoor season. But Charles P. Grimes, Santee's attorney, said the Marine Corps mile star had not intended to compete at Chicago, anyway.

The AAU scored another, probably more significant victory, over Santee yesterday when Judge Lynch tossed out the third part of Santee's complaint, namely that violations of the amateur code for track stars had been permitted so often in the past that the rule now is unenforceable.

THE DISMISSAL CAME when attorney Grimes admitted he was unable to proceed on arguments on this point now.

The dismissal wiped out any chance of a parade of track stars, former track stars, and meet officials to the stand to testify on how well the amateur code has been adhered to in the past.

Burkema Wins Florida Tourney

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Walter Burkema walked off with first place money of $1,800 in the Seminole Pro-Amateur Golf Tournament today.

The curly-haired former PGA champion from Franklin, Mich., putted to perfection over the tough Seminole Course Tuesday and wound up with a two-under-par 70 that gave him a 138 total. Ted Kroll, who was the day's biggest money winner, fired a final round 71 for second place, which was worth $1,000.

Johnson Floored by Wise in Upset

OAKLAND (AP)—Ball Ben Wise, Oakland, a 121-underdog, scored a major upset Tuesday night when he TKO'd 10th-ranked heavyweight Young Jack Johnson in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-rounder at Oakland Auditorium.

It was the first knockout of Wise's career—and the first knockout suffered by Johnson, the California heavyweight champion.

GOING into a sprawling stretch the New York Giants' Willie Mays gets back to first in the nick of time after almost being picked off by a quick throw from Pitcher Ernie Broglio to Bill White, the first sacker in an intra-squad game at the Giants' camp in Phoenix, Ariz. (International Soundphoto)

Dusty Rhodes, Hitting Hero of '54 Series, Hitting Again

By JOE SARGIS

United Press Sports Writer

Giant Manager Bill Rigney hardly ever mentions Dusty Rhodes as a left field candidate, but the hitting hero of the 1954 World Series appears today to have a "lock" on the job.

Rhodes, one of former Manager Leo Durocher's favorite characters and a legitimate long-ball threat, got three hits in all Tuesday, two of them homers, to lead the Giants to a 9-5 victory over the Baltimore Orioles. The homers were his fourth and fifth of the spring and he's been up only 31 times.

The homer-hitting Cubs made it two straight over the Cleveland Indians, 14-7, with Ernie Banks, Hank Sauer, Walt Moryn and the rookie Ed Winciak supplying the jackpot pokes. Early Wynn, Art Houtteman and Ray Narleski absorbed the punishment.

THE NEW YORK YANKEES, who had won five in a row, suffered a 3-2 loss as St. Louis pitchers Luis Arroyo, Larry Jackson and Gordon Jones set them down on just five hits. Mickey Mantle

At the Training Camps

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Buffs of the Texas League rallied for four runs in the fifth inning yesterday to defeat the San Francisco Seals, 4 to 3, in a chilly, wind-swept exhibition game.

General Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox was on hand to see his club's newest farm team in action, but the Seals were limited to four hits—all of them singles.

PASADENA (AP) — Eight Hollywood errors paved the way yesterday for Sacramento to score a 13-4 exhibition game victory over the Stars.

The Stars committed five errors in the third inning as the Solons scored six times to wrap up the game. Russ Rosburg homered for the Solons.

PASADENA (AP) — The Los Angeles Angels send Pete Spasoff, Phil Tarpey and Gene Dupree to the mound today against the Seattle Rainiers at Brookside Park.

The Angels slammed out 21 hits, including seven homers, yesterday at Wrigley Field in Los Angeles to bury the Pepperdine College

Seaman Hits Fast Pace

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bobby Seaman of UCLA, who hopes to land a spot on the U. S. Olympic team in the 1500-meter run, was clocked in a fast 2:58.9 Tuesday for the 1320-yard run.

P.S. Tankmen Qualify in All CIF Prelims

Four New School Records Set; Finals Slated Tomorrow

Four new school records were set as the Palm Springs swim team qualified at least once in 13 different events in the preliminaries of the CIF Invitational at Redlands. These boys will participate in the finals tomorrow.

John Cunningham qualified fourth in the 50 yard free-style and second in a diving while another outstanding varsity swimmer, Doug Hunt, qualified fifth in a 100 yard backstroke and fourth in the A ind. medley.

John Chumley qualified sixth in the B 100 yard backstroke and sixth in the B ind. medley, setting a new school record.

The C four man relay, the B four man relay, and the C med. relay all set school records although the latter did not qualify.

Results:

Cunningham qualified 4th in A 50 free-style.
Hunt qualified 5th in A 100 backstroke.
Hunt qualified 4th in A ind. medley.
Chumley qualified 6th in B ind. medley.
Bradley qualified 6th in B 100 backstroke.
Greenfield qualified 8th in C 50 yard breaststroke.
Blinzer qualified 8th in C 50 yard breast.
B 4 man relay qualified 4th. (School record)
C 4 man relay qualified 5th. (School record)
B 4 man relay qualified 4th. (School record)
Cunningham qualified 2nd in A Diving.
Harrison qualified 5th in A Diving.
Hallway qualified 6th in B Diving.

Banning Netters Here Tomorrow for RCL Match

After eking out a 5-4 victory over the Coachella Arabs, the Palm Springs Girls' tennis team has regained some of their confidence and hope to topple the Banning Broncos when the two teams meet here tomorrow.

Last week the Girls won both doubles matches and one out of five singles contests to give them enough points to conquer the Arabs. It is believed that in doing so the squad got past their largest obstacle in retaining the league title.

The number one player on the team, Gretchen Gerhart, is playing first doubles along with Carol Saindon while Buzzy Rosin fills in the first singles slot. Wendy Hammond plays second singles and has not lost a match thus far this season.

Knox Tries Out for Film Career

LOS ANGELES (AP) — MGM has until April 1 to decide whether to place UCLA football star Ronnie Knox under contract.

The halfback's stepfather, Harvey Knox, disclosed Tuesday that Ronnie took a screen test at MGM and it had an option until April 1 to decide whether to sign him.

A black and white cartoon illustration by Sam Ford. In the center, a woman in a black dress stands looking up at a man in a military uniform who has his mouth wide open as if shouting or singing. Behind him, another man in a uniform looks on. To the left, a group of men in uniforms are standing in a line. To the right, a woman in a uniform stands with her hands on her hips. The scene is set in a doorway. The artist's signature 'Sam Ford' and the date '3-19' are in the bottom right corner.

Triple-Story Building Before Zoning Group

Text changes in zoning provisions to permit three-story buildings within the present 30-foot height limit, will be one of the issues brought before the planning commission late this afternoon at council chambers near the airport.

The zoning provisions now allow two-story buildings within the 30-foot limit in hotel and apartment zones, and the proposed text change would permit three-story buildings in commercial zones.

The change was instigated when John Lindsey, architect for National Hotel Enterprises, asked for approval of a combination store and apartment building in front of El Mirador Hotel between Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue.

The building's first floor would be stores with a 210-foot front. The second and third floors would be apartments; living room and kitchen on the second floor and bedroom and sun porch on the third.

If the planning commission approves the language changes, work would start before summer, with probable completion, including underground parking, in time for the peak of next year's winter season.

The second public hearing on a request by Eileen Welmas and Flora P. Siva to rezone lands on both sides of the projected Tahquitz Drive will also be discussed.

They would have land presently zoned for hotels and commerce changed to trailer park zone.

Predicts Supreme Court Will Heed Race Manifesto

WASHINGTON — Rep. William M. Colmer said today he believes the Supreme Court will heed a "manifesto" signed by 101 congressmen and temper its order to carry out school desegregation.

The Mississippi Democrat, in a United Press interview, said the court is a "political court" which is "influenced by public opinion."

Colmer was a key sponsor of the recent manifesto which termed the court's school desegregation order "a clear abuse of judicial power."

"Any declaration of 19 senators and 82 House representatives cannot go unnoticed," he said, and will have an effect on the court itself.

"This may well come about where questions of implementing the decision again come before the court," he said.

Colmer, who has served in Congress since 1932, also said that "if President Eisenhower had stayed off his agitation for integration, he would carry every state in the south" in this year's election.

"Ike has muffed his opportunity," Colmer said.

Colmer said the Southern solidarity illustrated by the manifesto shows what the south can do if its representatives stick together.

Plea to UN Will Delay Israel's Arms Request

WASHINGTON — The American request for United Nations action in the Middle East crisis likely will postpone again a final decision on Israel's request to buy $64 million worth of U. S. arms.

Diplomatic experts said that taking the dispute to the United Nations also will put the Soviet bloc, which has supplied Egypt with weapons and has been increasingly pro-Arab, on the spot. They said Russia must now decide whether to go along with any U. N. "peace plan" that might be worked out or veto it.

The United States formally called on the U. N. Security Council last night to take "urgent and early action" in the deepening Arab-Israeli dispute. The U. S. request gave no firm indication of what action it wanted by the United Nations, but officials said President Eisenhower thinks the Security Council should "investigate" the dispute and recommend steps to keep the peace.

Court Grants $80 Gallstones Rent

LOS ANGELES — A municipal judge ruled Tuesday that water softener salesman Harold Hester must give back Mrs. Viola Fredieu her gallstones and pay her $80 for renting them.

Mrs. Fredieu said the stones, removed from her gall bladder in an operation nine years ago, were rented by Hester for use in a demonstration but complained he hadn't paid the rental fee.

The fossil tree, Calixylon, oldest tree known to man is at Ada, Okla. Its age is estimated at 350 million years.

Youth Center Offers Many Activities to Teen-Agers on Easter Vacation

Opening of Youth Center facilities to all visiting teen-agers and dances every night of the week are part of an extensive Easter Recreation program offered local and out-of-town students during their annual vacation next week.

The program, arranged by Howard Haddock, city recreation director, is being sponsored by the city department, Youth Center, Youth Coordinating Council, and the Hotel and Apartment Association.

The high school swimming pool also will be open Wednesday through Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m., with a small admission charge to cover the cost of towels and supervision.

Visiting and local teen-agers are invited to take advantage of the Youth Center facilities, from 1 p.m. each day.

Dances are scheduled at the Youth Center Monday and Tuesday nights, starting at 8 p.m., with admission free. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights, there will be dancing at the American Legion hall, to the music of Steve White and his recording Jazz and Pop Band. Admission charge here will be $1, sponsored by the Optimist Club, with all proceeds to be used in work with boys, their major project.

The program also calls attention of the teen-agers to these other events:

San Diego Padres baseball practice games on March 24, 25, 26, 28 and 31, with the Cleveland Indians, University of Southern California, Hollywood and Sacramento.

Roller skating at the rink at Radio Road and Indian Avenue, from 1 to 5 and 7:30 to 11 p.m.

Bowling at alleys located across from the police station.

Theater programs, with matinees offered daily at the Village Theater, and evening shows at the Plaza, El Paseo and Sun-air Drive-in.

Tennis courts, playground and picnic facilities at Tamarisk Park, and relaxation facilities at De-Muth Park.

Sightseeing in Tahquitz, Palm Canyon and Andreas Canyons.

Snow-Hit N.Y. Struggles Back to 90 Pct. Normal

NEW YORK — Spring sunshine cleared acres of snow from the storm-battered east coast today and the activity of the nation's biggest city returned to 90 per cent normal.

Streets and highways were cleared, schools reopened, business perked up and public transportation facilities resumed regular schedules.

Business firms and merchants reported that activity Tuesday rose to 66 per cent of normal, almost twice what it had been the day before. They said business volume should easily increase today to 90 per cent of normal.

Came Equipped

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Two tiny teeth were revealed when the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Snyder waited her entry into the world recently at Buffalo's Millard Fillmore Hospital.

To know how much I appreciate their help. The discovery that I have so many friends is the most inspiring thing that has ever happened to me.

Reich Optimistic on His Campaign

Herman Reich, candidate for Congress from the 29th District, reported on his campaign progress and future plans at a cocktail party hosted by the Palm Springs Committee for Herman Reich for Congress at the Biltmore Hotel.

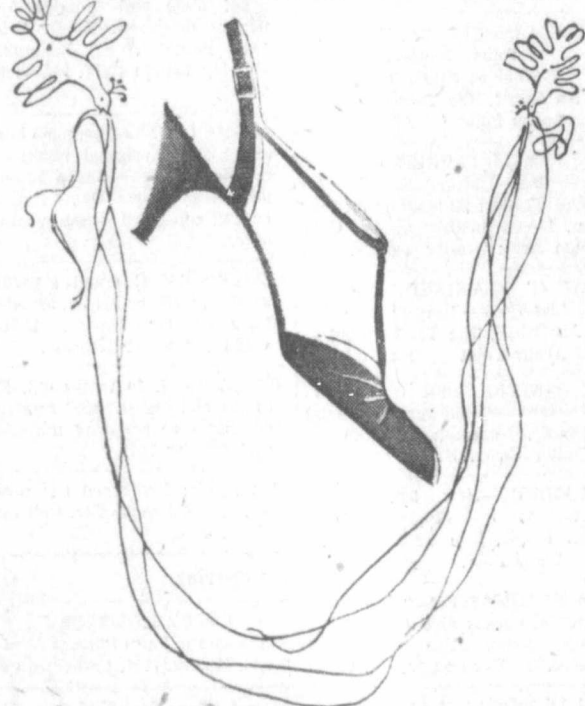

"We are in the midst of the hottest primary contest this district has seen in a long time," Reich told the 60 persons present. Expressing confidence as to his success, he added, "Whether I win or lose, I want my many friends

Carnation corner

When friends ask me for Lenten menu ideas, or just plain "new" recipes, my answer usually involves Carnation Cottage Cheese. Why? Well, it's so rich in vital protein-rich of all the regular cheeses. That helps balance meatless meals. Then, too, it tastes so good! Carnation Cottage Cheese has a fine, fresh flavor that makes it a wonderful treat just "as is" — straight from the carton!

Naturally, it adds extra goodness to your favorite cottage cheese recipes, too. Try it with fresh fruits or vegetables, in salads, or blended all through this nippy cheese soufflé — a real favorite at our house.

1/4 cup butter
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 cup Carnation Homogenized Milk
1 1/2 cups CARNATION COTTAGE CHEESE
1 cup crushed corn flakes
1 tablespoon grated onion
3 egg yolks
3 egg whites

Blend butter, flour, salt and mustard together in top of double boiler over hot water or in saucepan over low heat. Gradually add milk; cook until thickened and smooth. Stir constantly. Add Cottage Cheese, 3/4 cup corn flakes, and onion. Stir hot cheese mixture into beaten egg yolks. Cool slightly. Fold beaten egg whites into cheese-egg yolk mixture. Place in buttered 2-quart casserole. Sprinkle remaining corn flakes over top. Bake soufflé in pan of hot water in slow oven (325°F.) 50-60 minutes. Serve at once.

You know, one secret of that wonderful Carnation Cottage Cheese flavor is its freshness. It's made fresh every day and rushed to you. You'll agree, with your very first spoonful, that only Carnation could make it so good!

Peeling onions won't make you cry if you rinse them in cold water several times while you're peeling them. To remove onion odor from knife or grater, slice or grate a raw potato.
